Subject: Training Course to FST Final Year Project Students

Dear FST Final Year Project students,

In order to enhance the professional capabilities of FST students, FST is preparing a training course in engineering ethics and professionalism to you before your graduation. This training course will be delivered by experienced external trainer. It is believed that the training would be beneficial to you and your career.

The training is scheduled on 26 April 2014 (Saturday) and you are required to attend at least one session. Your attendance and performance in the training will be considered as part of the grade of the final year project. Please reserve a seat via the following website on or before 17 April 2014 (Thursday).
