Subject: Participant Invitation Letter

Dear

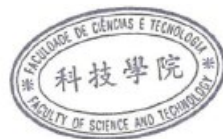

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering (ECE) of University of Macau is hosting the “2026 Macau International Symposium on Radiotheragnostics (MISR)” onsite at the University of Macau, Macau (2026/5/12) and University of Macau Advanced Research Institute in Hengqin, Zhuhai (2026/5/13). You are cordially invited to join the symposium in Macau/Hengqin.

This symposium provides a platform for interactions among physicians, researchers and technologists from world reputed universities and research institutions in radiotheragnostics and molecular imaging. Leading experts from around the world in the field of nuclear medicine and biomedical imaging will explore key advancements in radiotheragnostics, share cutting-edge research findings, and exchange clinical insights.

Please consider this letter to be an official invitation to facilitate the processing of visa and/or documents needed to be able to attend the symposium.

We look forward to meeting you in the 2026 MISR in Macau/Hengqin!

Sincerely,

Organizing Committee of 2026 MISR
